Cookie Policy

This policy explains how the Barrow Legal website (www.barrow-legal.com) uses cookies and how you can control them.

01

What cookies are

Cookies are small text files saved on your phone, tablet or computer when you visit a website. They let the website remember things, such as keeping a page secure or recording that you have already answered our cookie banner. Some cookies are set by us and some by other companies whose tools we use.

02

How we ask your permission

When you first visit our website, a cookie banner asks whether you accept non-essential cookies. Only essential cookies are used until you make a choice. Rejecting non-essential cookies is as easy as accepting them, and it does not stop you using any part of our website.

You can change your mind at any time by clicking Cookie settings at the bottom of any page.

Essential cookies

Essential cookies keep the website secure and working. The law allows us to use these without your consent. They are set by Wix, the platform that hosts our website, and include:

COOKIE	WHAT IT DOES	HOW LONG IT LASTS
XSRF-TOKEN	Protects the site against fraudulent requests	Until you close your browser svSession	Supports security and core site functions	12 months
hs	Security	Until you close your browser
TS*	Detects attacks on the site	Until you close your browser
bSession	Measures how well the system is running	24 hours
SSR-caching	Helps pages load quickly	24 hours
server-session-bind, client-session-bind	Protects the site's systems	Until you close your browser

The cookie banner also stores a record of the choice you made, so it does not ask you again on every page.

04

Optional cookies

Analytics cookies (only with your consent) tell us how many people visit our website, which pages they read and how they found us. We use Wix Analytics for this. The information is grouped together and is not used to identify you.

Marketing cookies (only with your consent) help us see whether our Google Ads lead to enquiries, for example by recording that a visitor who clicked an advert later called us or sent an enquiry form. These are set by Google. Google's own use of this data is explained in its privacy policy at policies.google.com/privacy.

The exact cookies on our website can change when Wix or Google update their tools. Our cookie banner shows the current list under each category.
